Rod Heikell : Turkish Waters Cyprus Pilot before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Turkish Waters Cyprus Pilot:

We left our copy with the captain of our gullet to his great pleasure. 12 of 12 people found the following review helpful. Don't sail Turkish Coast without this book By Denica I am familiar with the Turkish Coast. I am from Turkey and speak the language. The summer of 2011, we will cruise the Southwest Turkey. I purchased this book and went through the entire length. It has just about all the information one needs to safely and enjoyably cruise the area. Aside from cultural information, food, language etc. it has detailed information about anchorages, boat harbors and other information needed during a cruise. Every bay and anchorage is mapped and useful soundings, rocks, reefs, shallow areas are indicated. It even includes the coastal restaurants one can visit moored at a small village! We have also purchased the charts of the area but I think they aren't as detailed as the drawings in this book. Photographs are great; customs clearing, peculiarities of legal and authority figures are sensitively described. I will have more detailed review after we use the book next summer but I feel very confident having it with us while sailing our chartered boat from Bodrum to Kas and back.

This new 8th edition of Rod Heikell's guide to the coast of Turkey from the Bosphorus to the Syrian border and Cyprus has been revised following the author's visits to the coasts. Details of new yacht harbours have been collected and the data on the existing entries has been updated and improved throughout. There are many new plans and new photographs from the author and high quality aerial photos of most of the major harbours which gives a fascinating overview and support for the plans. This edition sees a reworked introduction that takes accounts of changing cruising patterns and interests. There is no other guide written in English. Turkish Waters Pilot sets the standards both for pilotage and describing the places to visit and see. Contents: Prefaces; Introduction; General information; Technical information; 1.
