The Automobile Association (Great Britain) : Walks Tours in France (AA Guides) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Walks Tours in France (AA Guides):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great driving tour guide.By Geoffrey Lloyd GilbertAn excellent companion for a driving tour of France with 2 walks on each tour thrown in for good measure. Instructions seem easy to follow. Takes a lot of the hard work out of planning a holiday. A bit heavy to carry but I'll take it with me all the same.Geoffrey Gilbert

Sixty-one motor tours with easy-to-follow route directions; 114 walks with large-scale mapping. With its wonderfully diverse scenery, culture, cuisine, and architecture, France offers something for every traveler. In this book, walks and tours are integrated within each of the sixteen regions; superb maps, route directions, highlighted points of interest, and beautiful color photographs make both planning and touring a breeze.

From the Back Cover Most people would agree that France, with its wonderfully diverse scenery, culture, cuisine and architecture, can offer something to suit all tastes-if you know where to go. With this in mind, Walks and Tours in France has been designed to help travellers find their way around, either by car or on foot, and to discover its many different faces at their own pace. This combination ensures you will see all the major sights in any given area, but it also enables you to search out the less well-known corners and to reach the heart of the country and its people.

About the Author The Automobile Association (Great Britain) has been publishing travel guides since around 1910; and by 1929 they were issuing 239,000 routes a year. In 2003 this number had risen to a staggering 32 million. The AA (Great Britain) has always produced routes and travel guides, a business activity that has grown rapidly in recent years – AA Publishing is now the UK's largest travel publisher, producing more than 8 million books in 2003. Beginning in 1912 the AA also started to inspect hotels, and those receiving the AA's famous star classification were included in subsequent editions of the Members' Handbook. Today the association inspects and rates more than 8,000 hotels and bed and breakfast establishments each year and review almost 2,000 restaurants, publishing the results in a series of annual guides.
