Editors of Wallpaper Magazine : Wallpaper City Guide: Copenhagen (Wallpaper City Guides) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Wallpaper City Guide: Copenhagen (Wallpaper City Guides):

The guide helped with finding the latest great restaurants. BUT Copenhagen ... I was so very disappointed with the guide. With a city that breaths good design and shopping I thought Wallpaper would have more to contribute. I went to all of the shops recommended by the book.

One of which was closed (Modern 10a). Truth be told I should have checked that out before the trip (guide was published in 2006). BUT another store that highly recommended was so very tiny and the pictures did the store alot of justice!!! There was a restaurant named Korriander that we would have loved to have tried but it was only open for summer months (I think small details like this should always be in guides). I am going to stick with other guides for future trips....though esthetically most guides are not as nice Wallpapers. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. was a gift- and was loved by the recipient By cji can only review this item 'second hand' as i gave it as a gift. the recipient said it was super chock full of details w/ a very nice+easy graphic layout. one could surely find all the same info on various WWW sites, but Wallpaper always makes nice 'eye-candy' publications, so for the low cost it is still worth buying for a pocket-guide. Enjoy Copenhagen! 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great series By L. Skaliotis First time I got the Wallpaper series and found it superb for what it is. Not the usual guide with endless pages on history and details you need a month to go though. Short, concise, perfect for a short break where you only have little time to spend there and even less time to read. You will need a map separately though.

Wallpaper* City Guides are a ruthlessly-researched, design-conscious guide, for the discerning traveller who wants to come away with a true taste of the best a city has to offer.
