Penelope Dyan : Water! Water! A Kid's Guide To Amsterdam. Netherlands before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Water! Water! A Kid's Guide To Amsterdam. Netherlands:

Amsterdam, Netherlands (Holland) has more museums than any other city in the world! But if you ask a kid, most kids really don't like museums and stuff like that much, unless it happens to be a place for Kids, like the Nemo Science Center--yes, that's right, Nemo, like the fish! And you can even take a tour boat to get there for a fun hands on science experience! Some of the other museums you can see are the Anne Frank Museum, the Van Gogh Museum (the guy who cut off his ear) and Rijksmuseum, just to name a few. People get around Amsterdam by bike, by bus and by boat, and sometimes by car. You can take a hop on hop off bus, or you can take a hop on hop off boat; and (of course) taking a boat ride is always loads of fun for kids. When you travel anywhere, the main thing you want to do is feel the city; and award winning author, attorney and former teacher, Penelope Dyan and talented photographer, John D. Weigand, do just that! This 'learn to read' book with its extra large print is the perfect size to take along in a kid's backpack, and Dyan and Weigand have a knack of spotting things a child likes to see! This, coupled with the free music video on the Bellissimavideo YouTube Channel, makes learning fun! And learning should always be fun!
